Field of the Invention The present invention relates to a connector, and particularly to a cable end-fitting connector for electrical connection with a cable. 2. Description of the Related Art Cable end-fitting connectors are widely used in electrical connection with cables for the following reasons: (1) The cables can be easily connected and disconnected. (2) The cables can be easily laid with the connectors fixed to the cables. In U.S. Pat. No. 6,234,406, a conventional cable end-fitting connector is shown. This cable end-fitting connector includes a first member and
