time using any of the many tools that are built into the application. povray is a powerful, well-established, full-featured non-photorealistic rendering application that has been around for over 25 years. povray is the standard for hdri applications due to the limitless possibilities for creating radiometric and atmospheric effects through interactive control of materials and lighting models. the ability to create real-time materials is a crucial feature that a lot of people do not understand. povray can create a really cool image that you can open and interact with at the same time as it is rendering, giving you the ability to make edits to your material without having to stop the rendering. this lets you see the results of your changes immediately, avoiding additional renderings if you change your mind about your material settings. you can make changes to materials or lighting on the fly and never miss a beat. this is a huge time saver, since a lot of our work is done on deadline.
